The Faculty of Business Administration and Economics is seeking to fill the following position

Junior Professorship (W 1) in Finance with Tenure Track Option (W 2)

The successful candidate is an expert in research and teaching in the field of Finance. He or she is internationally recognized as a specialist especially in the areas of Banking, Finance or Risk Management. The tenure track option offers the opportunity to work as a W2-professor in these areas.

The Junior Professorship is part of the Department “Taxation, Accounting and Finance”. The candidate will be working in an attractive scientific environment which is based on analytical and empirical research methods. Collaborative work in research with colleagues from the department is expected and highly desired, e.g. joint working on research papers and joint applications for research funding. Therefore, next to finance, the candidate should also show interest in the fields of accounting and taxation.

The candidate should be able to hold lectures in English and should strongly engage in teaching on all levels of scientific education. It is expected that he or she will participate in teaching in the department's major field of study “Taxation, Accounting and Finance”. In addition the participation in self-administration is expected.

Hiring requirements: The candidate has reached a completed university degree, pedagogical aptitude and an outstanding Ph.D. degree in the last 5 years and ideally published research in international journals. Additional § 37 Abs. 2 HG NRW (University Law of the State of NRW).

The University of Paderborn is seeking to increase the percentage of women among the academic staff and therefore strongly encourages applications from qualified female scientists. In case of equal qualifications and achievements, women will be given preferential consideration according to state law (LGG). Furthermore, applications from qualified handicapped persons are also encouraged.
