Proof of extension of admission validity from October 2025 to January 2026

(Only valid in conjunction with proof of admission to the DSH course for October 2025)

Dear Sir or Madam,

we hereby confirm that your admission to the preparatory German course (DSH course) for October 2025 also entitles you to enroll in the course starting in January 2026.

Enrollment will take place online from Monday, November 10, 2025, to Friday, December 5, 2025.

Please be sure to meet this deadline, as otherwise you may lose your place in the German course.

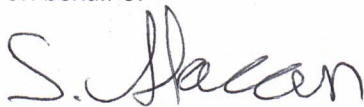

To accept your place on the German course, please send us the necessary registration documents (copy of the first page of your admission letter, copy of your passport/ID card, the completed and signed registration form, and receipts for the semester and course fees paid) by email to io.dsh.registration@zv.uni-paderborn.de. Please note that the documents must be submitted in PDF format only.

Further information on enrollment and fees can be found here: go.upb.de/Enrollment

The placement test, which will determine your level and assign you to the appropriate course, is scheduled to take place online on Monday, December 15, 2025. Since the course prepares students for scientific German, the course level may differ from language certificates you have obtained at other institutions. Participation is mandatory. Further information will be provided during registration.

The course is expected to start in the first week of January 2026, in person.

Kind regards on behalf of

Semih Afacan
