The Chair of Managerial Economics at the University of Paderborn, Department of Management (Prof. Dr. Wendelin Schnedler) is looking for a

Post-doctoral Research Assistant
(pay scale TV-L 13)

This is a full-time position, starting 1st July 2018, or at the earliest possible date thereafter. The initial employment term is three years in accordance with the German „Wissenschaftszeitvertragsgesetz“ (WissZeitVG) and offers the opportunity for an additional academic qualification (“Habilitation”). An extension for another three years is in principle possible.

Your Profile
- Highly motivated to independently work on own research projects as well as to collaborate with your new research fellows
- Profound knowledge and experience in quantitative research, especially in econometrics, microeconomics, and game theory
- Holding (or close to completing) a PhD in economics
- Strong command of English, and ideally some knowledge of German

Your Responsibilities
- Conducting your own research and contributing to joint research (see our homepage for current research project at our chair: wiwi.uni-paderborn.de/dep1/me/)
- Presenting research findings internally and externally at conferences and seminars
- Publishing project results in leading economic research journals
- Teaching one 4-hour course per term

We offer
- Room for implementing your own ideas
- Expertise in developing an economic perspective on sociological and psychological topics like the “chain of unkindness”, responsibility, the refusal to receive help
- Methodological knowledge in applied microeconomics and experimental economics
- Access to an experimental laboratory (www.baer-lab.org)
- A workplace certified for its employee health program and family friendly culture
- A very friendly and often funny team where decisions are made together

Applications should include a cover letter, your CV including your list of publications, a copy of one unpublished paper, and two reference letters (if available). Please send your application (as a single PDF) via e-mail (ManEc@wiwi.uni-paderborn.de) by 8th April 2018, indicating the reference number 3272. Job interviews are planned to take place at end of April 2018.

Applications from women are particularly welcome and, in case of equal qualifications and experience, will receive preferential treatment according to state law (LGG). Part-time employment is possible in general. Qualified disabled people (in the sense of the German social law SGB IX) are also encouraged to apply.

Prof. Dr. Wendelin Schnedler
Faculty of Business Administration & Economics
Chair of Managerial Economics
University of Paderborn
Warburger Str. 100
33098 Paderborn

www.upb.de